

Safety Incidents Involving Batteries and Mobile Phones

At Motorola, the safety of our products is a paramount concern. For that reason, Motorola designs, tests, and manufactures its mobile phones, two-way radios and accessories to strict internal safety and performance standards. Reports of incidents involving batteries and mobile phones should remind consumers to use only Motorola-authorized products and accessories, such as batteries, from authorized dealers.